Don't Miss A Day Of Work This Winter With The Immune Secret Norwegian Fishermen Depend On To Get Through Winter's Worst

My Two Kids Never Miss A Day Of School

I have two kids in school. After starting #51 they missed no more school days. It also helped with my migraines. Thanks!

No More Lost Wages

For 16 years every winter I could count on lost wages. 2 years ago I discovered Bell Shark Liver Oil #51. By now I believe that I will never spend another wasted day or week in bed. I told all my coworkers.

"Pep" Like The Younger Travelers

I have been back-packing for 20 years all over Europe, South America, New Zealand, everywhere. Taking Bell Shark Liver Oil #51 helps me to keep in top shape with almost as much "pep" as the younger travelers. I am amazed about its versatility.

Need something to keep your immune system healthy, soothe aches and perk up your energy reserves?

Check out this secret used by fisherman plying the northern seas.

In their line of work, Norwegian and Swedish fishermen face the toughest conditions – icy, stormy seas, long hours and the stress of unruly weather.

As rough as it is out there, they can't afford to miss a day on the boat. That's why for generations, these indomitable fisherman have relied on shark liver oil to keep them healthy.

Shark liver oil supports vigorous immune activity thanks to a good supply of two special immune nutrients . . . squalene and alkylglycerol (AKG)

Squalene provides such good immune support that vaccine companies use it as an adjuvant (booster) to numerous vaccines.

Squalene is also linked to skin health, energy support and healthy cell growth and division.

Alkylglycerol (AKG) is the same special fat found in human colostrum, the first immunity-rich milk a mother gives her newborn child. Colostrum gives the baby's immune system what it needs to survive in the outside world. AKG is also found in the key immune tissue of bone marrow, the spleen and the liver.

How well do these work together? In one small clinical study, researchers noted that when people took shark liver oil daily, 4 key indicators of immune health went up – more neutrophils, more C4 protein, more cytokines and higher blood antioxidant levels.

So if you're looking for nutrition that can keep your defenses strong, jazz you up – and even vanquish minor aches and pains – you can find it in shark liver oil.

Tested under the most rigorous conditions, shark liver oil can help you get through the roughest of the rough.

And it comes with a 100% Satisfaction Guarantee. If in 90 days, you're not satisfied it, return it and get a refund (Minus shipping and handling; good for only one purchase of a specific product.)

Wife Jogs And Exercises Again Daily

I convinced my wife to try it and she feels great! She jogs and exercises again daily. After taking Bell Shark Liver Oil #51, Presto! I cannot find words to describe how Bell products improved my life. I'm telling everybody.

This Worked When MSM, Glucosamine With Chondroitin, Omega 3 Didn't!

For many years I tried many, like omega 3 fishoils, MSM, glucosamine with chondroitin and my body rejected all these products. My digestive system tolerates Bell Shark Liver Oil #51 without the side effects I had with all the others, like diarrhea and that feeling that something is wrong. I feel so much better over all. I sleep better and am less stressed.

I'm a health care worker. Had back problems for years. I've tried all the creams. When I tried Bell Shark Liver Oil, I couldn't believe it, the very next day I felt like 20 years ago, no pain and full of energy, happy to do tackle anything, without holding back because of pain. I'm telling all people. Can't wait till summer to play baseball again.
